“Open Access is the free, immediate, online availability of research articles coupled with the rights to use these articles fully in the digital environment.”

<https://sparcopen.org/open-access/>

Making your dissertation accessible allows others to build upon it, promoting collegiality.

The more accessible
your dissertation is,
the more likely it is to be used and cited.

“An open access citation advantage as high as 19% exists, even when articles are embargoed during some or all of their prime citation years”

Ottaviani J (2016) The Post-Embargo Open Access Citation Advantage: It Exists (Probably), It's Modest (Usually), and the Rich Get Richer (of Course). PLOS ONE 11(8): e0159614. <https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0159614>

What are my options?

ProQuest

PQDT OPEN

- Private company that collects dissertations & theses, assigns metadata, and sells the information and full-text to libraries and other institutions
- PDQT Open: Open access titles that can be retrieved via the ProQuest database PQDT Open, which anyone with access to the Internet will be able to read and
 - The Open Access Publishing PLUS publishing option costs $95. This one-time fee funds the perpetual hosting of the student's work for electronic public access.
 - Inconsistent discoverability in aggregators

IUScholarWorks

- Over 8,000 items in IUB
- Articles, dissertations, conference proceedings
 - Media & data linking
- Community → Collections

The screenshot shows the IUScholarWorks website. At the top is a dark header with the site name and navigation links. Below this are two main promotional boxes: one for raising the research profile with a 'Get Started' button, and another for browsing items by author, date, subject, or title. The lower section, titled 'Why Use IUScholarWorks?', features three columns: 'IMPACT' (citing Google search results), 'PRESERVATION' (describing digital preservation standards), and 'COMPLIANCE' (mentioning NIH data-sharing requirements).

Why Use IUScholarWorks?

IMPACT
Increases citation impact

PRESERVATION
Guarantees permanence

COMPLIANCE
Satisfies funder requirements

IMPACT
Studies have shown that freely available publications are more frequently downloaded and cited. Items deposited in IUScholarWorks appear highly ranked in Google search results, thus raising your readership and ultimately, your citation profile.

PRESERVATION
IUScholarWorks employs preservation standards to manage technology changes so that your scholarship remains accessible over time. This includes replicating repository content across distributed nodes for safekeeping through the Digital Preservation Network (DPN).

COMPLIANCE
Funding agencies increasingly require open access to research results. Depositing your work in IUScholarWorks can fulfill dissemination and data-sharing requirements of federal and other grants, including the NIH data-sharing requirements.

“ProQuest will pay royalties of 10% of its net revenue from sales of the Work, conditioned on Author maintaining a current address on record with ProQuest.”

“By submitting your work to the IUScholarWorks repository, you (the creator or copyright owner) grant to Indiana University a non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable right to reproduce, reformat (as defined below), and/or distribute your submission (including the abstract) worldwide”

Embargo

When to Embargo...

- Your dissertation contains work that is still in copyright that belongs to a third-party who has not given permission to redistribute it and your use in the dissertation is not a fair use
- A publisher is interested in turning your dissertation into a book and has expressly told you they will not do so if the dissertation is available online
- You want to avoid getting “scooped” (more on this-next slide)

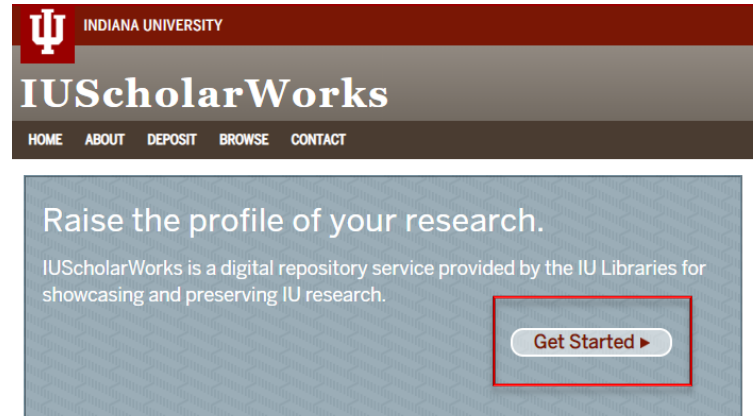

Remember

- Dissertation > fixed medium, publicly documented
- Dissertations are often VASTLY different than subsequent books and/or articles

Submitting to IUSW

- IUSW is located at:
<https://scholarworks.iu.edu/>
- Begin the process with “Get Started”
- Then click on the link for Theses & Dissertations Submission Form or go directly to:
